

Top Academic Honors Received by Graduate

Deputy Samuel Leonard, Deputy Roy Ellis, and Deputy Doug Monteleone graduated from The Rappahannock Regional Justice Academy on March 15, 2006. Deputy Samuel Leonard walked away with The “Top Academic Honors Award”. Sheriff Charlie Ray Fox, Jr. is beaming with pride for his award winning deputy and the other graduates.

The graduating class consisted of six separate jurisdictions that all had the privilege of receiving an inspiring speech from key note speaker Captain Mike Sager. Captain Sager is the Commander in charge of the Adult Detention Center for Fauquier County. He spoke to all the deputies about the importance of communication, teamwork, and the pride each of them should take in their careers. ‘Your job as a Law Enforcement/Corrections Officer is to up hold the law, lead by example and carrier yourself with dignity and respect’. Having been in law enforcement himself for over 24 years, Captain Sager was able to give the graduates a lot of good advice pertaining to their careers. In closing he wished all the deputies good luck and godspeed.

Sheriff Fox is looking forward to long and successful careers from each of the deputies. “It is our pleasure to welcome them as a part of our law enforcement family”.
